“This is an era of EBC. In such an era, there is no transcendence without crisis. Let us replace ERP and introduce EBC, embrace the belief of winning and empower the digital capability.” Robert Xu, Chairman and CEO of Kingdee International Software Group Limited said. EBC, a new digital ecosystem that enterprises adapt to the development of the digital era, is composed of five platforms showing different unique capabilities to help enterprises empower the digital capability, namely customer-oriented experience platform, employee-oriented information system platform, everything-oriented internet of things platform, partner-oriented ecological platform and data and intelligent analysis platform.”

Kingdee and Gartner jointly launched the EBC Market Guide (2020), aiming at the digital transformation and empowerment of digital capability for Chinese enterprises. It provides guidance for new ideas, methods, platforms and benchmarks from concept guidance, top-level design to implementation. Market Guide points out that the construction and transformation of digital platform is not just about IT consulting and construction, but integrating business and technology based on customer business development. It spreads the boundary of the enterprise from the inside to the outside, and turns the data assets into the productive forces and production factors that drive the innovation of the enterprises.

At the conference, Kingdee Cloud Cosmic 3.0 was officially released. Kingdee Cloud Cosmic is a new generation of digital symbiosis platform for large enterprises. Kingdee Cloud Cosmic 3.0 enables enterprises to empower their digital capabilities and transform from ERP to EBC with more stable, faster, and better PaaS platform, as well as comprehensive, completed, and rich SaaS applications. According to Zhao Yanxi, at the PaaS level, Kingdee Cloud Cosmic 3.0 will provide more reliable enterprise-level cloud native PaaS, integrated low code family, enterprise-level data service platform and supply chain data platform. The enterprise data service platform includes data lake, data platform and data application, in order to build data-driven capability engine and provide data-driven capability for enterprises. At the SaaS level, Kingdee Cloud Cosmic 3.0 provides more comprehensive SaaS applications, including Finance Cloud, Human Resources Cloud, Procurement Cloud, Omni-Channel Marketing Cloud, Supply Chain Cloud and Manufacturing Cloud. In the meanwhile, Kingdee Cloud Cosmic 3.0 accelerated the development of applications in the industry, including Real Estate Cloud, Construction Cloud, etc.

Kingdee Cloud Cosmic has been applied and practiced in many enterprises, helping enterprises to accelerate the evolution of digital platforms to EBC. Hesteel Group, through the establishment of three layer platform system with public, business and data, achieved with more than 120,000 service employees, 45.71 million tons of annual steel output and 2102 linked suppliers.
